

BLACK DAMP VICTIMS.

Boy Goes Into Abandoned Shaft at Providence to Cool Off and is Suffocated.

YOUNG MAN TO THE RESCUE SUFFERS SAME FATE

Sunday was a sad day for our neighboring town of Providence and Monday saw a most pathetic double funeral of the two victims of the deadly black damp that had accumulated in an old abandoned mine shaft in the town.

A number of boys were playing on the commons near the old shaft, which the owner says he had kept nailed up. To get inside to a ladder that was left standing there it was necessary to climb and it is said the place had been broken open by boys. Having gotten very warm at play, one of the boys, James Hunter, a grandson of Mr. T. B. Payne, one of the wealthy and best known citizens of Providence, climbed up and entered the old shaft, as he said, "to cool off." He ran down the ladder until he came in contact with the gas, when he was immediately overcome and fell into the old shaft.

The terrified boys gave the alarm and a number of citizens, including Messrs. T. B. Payne, Neal Payne, Higgins, Bud Holtzclaw and others came to the rescue. Neal Payne, who is not in robust health, started down the ladder to get the boy out. He only descended a little way when he felt the effects of the gas and returned just in time to be helped out by friends. He thought it was only his delicate health and nobody yet thought of gas.

Bud Holtzclaw, a young man of fine physical appearance, stepped forward and said he would bring the boy out. Hurrying confidently down the ladder he ran full into the black damp before he knew any danger and fell off the ladder like he had been shot.

Both lives were lost. Messages were sent to Evansville for divers to recover the bodies, but before they could get beyond Madisonville friends had fished the bodies out and the divers were turned back.

Monday afternoon the little victim and the heroic, but fated rescuer were laid side by side in the same grave in the family lot of Mr. T. B. Payne, in Big Hill cemetery, and Providence mourned as never before over the pitiful and pathetic double tragedy.

WORK DULL IN RAILROAD SHOPS AT DECATUR, ALA.

Men Not Laid Off Because of Membership in Labor Union.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—Officials of the Louisville & Nashville railroad deny that the men in the shops of the company at Decatur, Ala., were laid off because they belong to a union. It is said that there simply is not work sufficient to keep all the men at work and that some had to be suspended temporarily.

"There is no truth whatever in the report that we laid the men off because they are union members," said an L. & N. official. "There is but a small amount of work on hand and a few men can't be kept on. All will be placed to work again when there is something to do."

DR. BRIGGS

Brings Suit Against Louisville Railway Company for $10,000.

The Rev. George Waverly Briggs has brought suit against the Louisville Railway Company for $10,000 damages for alleged injuries received by falling from a street car on Twenty-seventh street in March. The plaintiff claims that a banana peel lying on the platform of the car was the direct cause of his injury. His arm was broken and he was otherwise injured.

Dr. Briggs, after some trouble in Paducah last spring with a boarding house keeper, whom he stabbed with a pen knife under the erroneous impression that he had abused his little son, resigned his pastorate there and went to Louisville. It was then this accident occurred.

Dr. Briggs, who is a remarkable orator, has recently been lecturing in the Southwest with fine success.—Louisville Times.

OUR CLUB NOTES.

The score was not as good Thursday as usual, owing to a new trapper, who threw rather swiftly for several of the shooters.

When Barter doesn't get more than 21 there is always something wrong. He was out the next day after the shoot and broke 35 straight.

Ed Phillips was out Thursday to try his hand. Ed broke 9, and lest some one would get to town before he did and tell he had done, had Brick Southworth bring him in his buggy. Ed is all smiles.

Henry Bourland was trying to tease Barter about only breaking 21 and winning the medal. Barter soon informed Henry that he had won it once and only broke 19 and didn't feel like he had stole it, either.

Thursday is an unlucky day for Charlie Robinson.

Seargent was out again. He is one of the most enthusiastic member in the club, and says he would like to know how a fellow feels when he only gets seven out of twenty-five shots.

Dr. Renfrow says he is not going out next Thursday, but will send Herman and see if he can't do better shooting than he has been doing lately.

Lee Oldham is taking more interest in the club now than when he was only getting from 4 to 6. Lee is good for 20 and upwards now.

If Frank Arnold can break 9 straight, it does seem that he could get more than 5 out of the next 10 shots.

We judge from the score that Dr. Chatten has been getting some bad shells, for it can't be the doctor's fault.

Jno. X. Taylor is said to be one of the most graceful shooters in the gun club.

JUDGE PRATT ACCEPTS

Nomination for Circuit Judge and Will Enter State Campaign.

WALTER BLACKBURN NAMED FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.

Hon. Clifton J. Pratt has accepted the nomination for Circuit Judge tendered him by the Republican convention held at Princeton Wednesday of last week for the district composed of Hopkins, Caldwell, Crittenden and Livingston. The nomination was made by acclamation as was that of Walter Blackburn, of Marion, who was nominated Commonwealth's Attorney to contest in the race for that office with the present incumbent John L. Grayton who is asking a re-election as the Democrat nominee.

Carl Henderson of Marion presented Judge Pratt's name to the convention and L. A. Teague, of Madisonville, nominated Mr. Blackburn. Mr. Teague was complimented by the Hopkins county convention instructing for him but declined to allow his name mentioned at Princeton. The Caldwell county delegation were instructed for Judge P. H. Darby, of Princeton, but Mr. Darby also declined to allow his name presented.

C. J. Waddill, of Madisonville, was chairman of the Princeton convention. Among the Hopkins county Republicans who attended the convention were the following delegates:

R. R. Graham, L. A. Teague, C. J. Waddill and Letcher R. Fox, Madisonville; J. W. Slaton and J. M. Haywood, Hanson; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; R. J. Salmon, Ilsey; Joe Teague and B. McGregor, St. Charles.

Judge J. F. Gordon was some time ago chosen by the Democrats to make the race for Circuit Judge. The district is considered close and a vigorous campaign may be looked for. With two such gentlemen on the opposing tickets for the high office of Circuit Judge a dignified campaign pitched on a high plane is hoped for and confidently expected.

Similar, But Different.

"Hello, there cully!" exclaimed the bank burglar as he encountered an acquaintance. "Are you still picking pockets?" "Sure," answered the light fingered gent; "but I've got a new scheme for doing it that sidetracks the police."

"Put me wise," said the b. b. "All right, but keep it mum," answered the other. "I'm running a railroad lunch counter. See?"

Snapshots From Roosevelt's Labor Day Speech.

The line of cleavage between good citizenship and bad citizenship separates the rich man who does well from the rich man who does ill, the poor man of good conduct from the poor man of bad conduct.

Let the watchwords of all our people be the old familiar watchwords of honesty, decency, fair dealing and common sense.

There is no worse enemy of the wageworker than the man who condones mob violence.

Legislation to be permanently good for any class must also be good for the nation as a whole.

There is no room in our healthy American life for the mere idler.

A republic such as ours can exist only in virtue of the orderly liberty which comes through the equal domination of the law over all alike.

WILL J. PETER DEAD.

Prominent Young Politician of Henderson. Only Thirty-Six Years Old.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 6.—Wm. J. Peter, Councilman from the Fourth ward, this city, died this morning of Bright's disease. He was one of the prominent young attorneys at the Henderson bar, and enjoyed the distinction of being the only Republican ever elected to an office in that county, he having been some years ago elected to the office of County Attorney, which he filled with great credit and ability. He was only 36 years old.

At one time Mr. Peter was the law partner of Col. E. G. Seabee.

SALVATION ARMY WILL GO TO BREATHITT COUNTY.

Delegation From Pittsburg Started Yesterday for Kentucky.

Pittsburg, Sept. 9.—A delegation of Pittsburg Salvationists, under the leadership of Staff Capt. White, left today for the feud district of Kentucky to undertake the work of reforming the feudists. The objective point is Breathitt county. The party is made up, outside of a few of the officers in the work in this city, of members of the local army who volunteer to give their time to the work.

Funny Things in the Papers.

J. L. Harbour, one of the editors of the Youth's Companion and an author, delights in poring over the rural papers for unconscious humor. He says that descriptions of weddings are invariably funny, and among the instances he cites is a paragraph which indulges in eulogy concerning the bride and bridegroom and concludes with, "We wish them all happiness, for John is one of our best young men, and so is Mary." He also tells of the minute descriptions of gifts which are set forth in rural papers on the occasion of a marriage, and says that in such a paper he found: "The bride's gift to the groom was a large hair wreath made of his family and hers. Aunt Emma Leach presented the couple with a handsome motto 'Fight on.' The bride's father gave her one copy of Bunyon's 'Pilgrim's Progress' and one Jersey cow bound in leather."—Ex.

Redwine is Out of the Race.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 7.—Judge D. B. Redwine has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in the Twenty-third Judicial District, composed of the counties of Breathitt, Lee, Wolfe, Magoffin and Estill.

Maybe the prophets received with stones in their own country were weather prophets.

UNCLE SAM'S SOLDIERS.

Will Wake Up Kentucky Camp Ground and Instruct State Militia.

CAPT. PAUL P. PRICE IS RE-APPOINTED COMMISSARY.

No Flowery Words of Ease Before the Boys—Hard Work the Rule.

Capt. Paul P. Price, of Earlinton, has accepted re-appointment by Col. Thos. J. Smith as commissary for the Third Kentucky Regiment and will be on duty at the big West Point encampment. His rank is that of captain mounted and his duties will be such as to keep him a very busy man for the ten days of the encampment. He will go a few days earlier than the time of the regiment's arrival. Capt. Price served in the same capacity in the Cuban campaign, but was then looking after only a portion of the regiment.

After that campaign Capt. Price resigned the position. He has now been highly complimented both by Colonel Smith and Lieutenant Colonel Jouett Henry in the re-appointment to the position as commissary to the Third Kentucky regiment.

The Madisonville company, E, is drilling twice a week under Capt. Powers and getting in fine shape for the encampment.

Condensed from an elaborate illustrated writeup in Sunday's Courier-Journal is here given the story of the proposed mammoth military encampment now being inaugurated at West Point, Ky.

More than 10,000 men, constituting the State Guard of Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin and regular army troops from the barracks and garrisons of five states, in the Department of the Lakes, will pitch their tents on the West Point maneuver grounds from Sept. 30 to Oct. 11, and by that time the section of picturesque country extending from Salt river to Otter creek, a distance of 10 miles, will be dotted with the "tent cities" and the usual quiet rural country will be converted into a scene of life and activity. A radius of about 26 square miles, bounded on the north by the beautiful Ohio, on the east by Salt river, on the west by Otter creek, and on the south by an imaginary line 10 miles back from the margin of the Ohio, will be populated with uniformed men from the ranks of Uncle Sam's military forces.

TWO KENTUCKY REGIMENTS.

Two regiments from Kentucky will participate in the maneuvers. The Kentucky contingent will be composed of Companies F, Cynthia; G, Lexington; A and E, Frankfort; and D, Eminence, in command of Maj. Embury Allen; Companies L, Mayfield, and I, Covington, in command of Maj. Nelson J. Edwards; Companies H and B, Barbourville; G, Danville, and K, Shelbyville, in command of Maj. E. W. Lillard. The above constitute the Second Kentucky infantry. The troops' trains will start from Cynthia, Catlettsburg and Stonega, Va. Third Kentucky Infantry.—First Battalion: Companies A, Bowling Green; G, Franklin; I, Paducah; M, Russellville, in command of Maj. E. H. Watts. Second Battalion: Companies B, Morganfield; D, Hopkinsville; H, Mayfield; L, Murray, in command of Maj. E. B. Bassett. Third Battalion: Companies C, Owensboro; E, Madisonville; F, Greenville; K, Bradfordsville, in command of Maj. J. Tandy Ellis, compose the Third Kentucky Infantry. These troops' trains will start from Russellville, Hopkinsville and Clinton. Batteries A, B and C, posted at Louisville, will go over the Henderson route to West Point.

The West Point encampment means a month of hard work for the State guards and regulars who are to participate. The maneuver grounds cover a vast territory, and are not all grassy and level. The chain of hills leading to Muldraugh hill runs entirely across the field, and the maneuvers will necessitate the climbing of these rugged heights. There is Fort Hill, Pileher's hill and point Muldraugh and numerous other high peaks, over which the soldiers must make their way in the seasons they will learn while in camp. They will be required to do a great deal of hard labor, and the occasion is by no means a pleasure jaunt for them.

The heliograph signal points, from which will be flashed the orders from headquarters and from each commanding officer, by day or night, have been selected. The apparatus will be placed on the lofty hills overlooking the field. One point will be on Fort Hill, south of West Point half a mile; another on Pileher's hill, another on Muldraugh hill, and others at various points so elevated that the heliograph flashes may be seen from one instrument to another. It requires but a short time to adjust the apparatus, and this will not be done until the troops arrive.

Several sham battles will be fought during the encampment and the battle fields will take in the entire radius of the camp ground. Where the actual battles will take place is not known, nor will this be known until the two armies, as divided for the purpose, come together.

COMPLIMENTARY.

Rev. E. B. Timmons Well Spoken of at Hopkinsville—Conference This Month.

With reference to our esteemed townman, Rev. E. B. Timmons, the Hopkinsville Messenger had this to say in its issue of Aug. 28:

Rev. E. B. Timmons completed his conference year at Union Chapel last Sunday. Bro. Timmons is a forceful and logical speaker, a pleasant, genial gentleman, and as near to perfection in Christianity as we poor mortals ever get, and being very popular with all, the members of that church hope he will be returned by the conference for another year.

Rev. Timmons will attend the Kentucky conference of the M. E. Church, which convenes at Covington on Sept. 16. He expects to leave home on the 14th instant. Bishop Joyce, of Minneapolis, will preside.

Anecdote of Lipton.

Some fifteen years ago Sir Thomas Lipton was a passenger on an East Indian steamer, bound for Ceylon. While in the Red Sea the boat was disabled and it became necessary to throw over a part of her cargo. Lipton was an interested spectator of the preparations. Suddenly he fled from the scene and secured a stencil, paint brush and a pot of black paint. Then, to the astonishment of the passengers, he cheerfully labeled each box and bale thrown over with the magic word, "Lipton," which has since become a household word wherever his commodities are used. The cargo, of course, floated ashore, and for miles in Arabia and other lands the natives saw the legend. Subsequently the passengers on the injured steamer were compelled to abandon it and take to small boats. On reaching land Sir Thomas was the first to get a cable office and wire news of the destruction of the boat and the safety of the travelers to London. The message was signed "Lipton." Of course, his name was in every English newspaper the next morning signed to that message, and he was the best advertised man in the whole of the Kingdom.—London Answers.

Wore Hoops.

A cow belonging to J. H. Brown better known as Clabber Brown of this city came home one night this week with an iron hoop tightly fitted around her body. After vainly trying to remove the hoop Mr. Brown was compelled to get a coal chisel and an ax and cut the hoop from the cow. This is a true story and persons desiring it will be shown the hoop by Mr. Brown.

German Syrup.

We want to impress on our readers that Boschee's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market for the relief of colds and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gums, etc., which have been so lightly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night and be free from the spasms of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectoration in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25c. regular sizes, containing nearly four times as much, 75c. At all druggists.

A Life Sentence For a Drunk.

William Kindt was drunk. That means that he was insane—mad as a rabid dog.

He had done what thousands of men have done—turned joy into tragedy. He went to a Sunday outing near Chicago, filled himself with liquor, let the tiger in him gain control, and then turned on his brother.

"Bill, for God's sake come home with me," pleaded Charles.

The answer was an oath, and then William Kindt drew a razor and slashed his brother across the eyes, destroying the sight.

That is how William Kindt became a criminal.

Sorry! Agony filled his breast when he realized what he had done. He was penitent. He wished he could give Charles his eyes.

And then there was the mother. William Kindt couldn't look at without an ache in his throat.

They ached him. Under ordinary circumstances he would have been cage like a wild beast to pay the penalty that society demands for misdeeds.

But Chicago has a wise Judge in E. O. Brown, who believes that sometimes there is a better penalty than prison life.

He called the men before him, the sorrowful William and the blind Charles and imposed this strange sentence.

William Kindt is to take care of his brother as long as he lives. He is to provide every comfort that his means will admit. In the event that William marries, his first care must still be Charles. He must read to him, talk to him, lead him and as far as possible take the place of the eyes that were destroyed by the slash of the razor. In addition he must assume the care of the old mother, and be good to him in every way that he knows how.

It is a life sentence, and William Kindt gladly accepted the conditions, and gave bond for the performance of his duty.

The blind man and the brother who made him blind left the court room together.

Some day, when you are filling your system with liquor, and the desire to brawl and smash things growing within you. Think about William Kindt's life sentence and the blind brother—Cincinnati Post.

TENNESSEE LIQUOR MEN

How They Expect to Win in Prohibition Territory of the South.

Nashville, Tenn.—The liquor men, well nigh paralyzed financially by the enactments of the last legislature, are making a bold bid for the control of the old parties here. They are very angry with the Democrats for passing the Adams local option law, and one of the leaders openly threatens as follows here in an interview.

"We held the balance of power in this state, and with the ties which will support us we can control the next state election. If the Democratic party will repeal the Adams law we will agree to support it and all its nominees, but if the leaders of that party continue to dissemble over this matter and blow hot and cold, promising us one thing and doing the opposite at the behest of the Anti-Saloon League, then you may look to see the liquor men of the state lined up with the Republican party. We have enough influence to put that party in power, notwithstanding the Democrats have the election machinery in their possession."

The Saloon Convicted; the Boys Hang.

In pronouncing the death sentence on two boy murderers at Owatonna, Minn., Judge Buckman pronounced this philippic against the saloon: "Every community can well ask if it is not equally guilty with its sister city in not making a vigorous effort to remove the snares which lie in waiting for the young in almost every town in the Union. These boys cannot have been brought to perpetrate such a crime through the influence of heredity. There is nothing to show it. It must be charged if it is true that they are guilty, to their environment. Without any ill feeling toward the people of this community, I must say that they are participants criminals in this tragedy, if the boys are guilty. The people have allowed the conditions which have brought these boys to such a pass. It is because the boys could procure of newsdealers such literature as debased their noble natures; because the police, knowing of the conditions existing in the rooms of these, permitted them to go on; because the saloonkeepers of this city were allowed to place to the lips of the young that which fires the brain and sears the soul. By imposing the death sentence the court will be striking at the effect, not the cause, and if the cause remains undisturbed the result will be another such case as a righteous retribution upon those responsible."

BANGOR KEEPS IT UP

Saloon Anarchists Pack Up For Good—261 Indictments Reported.

Bangor, Me.—The last corner of Maine where liquor men have thought they could live undisturbed has disappeared.

The Penobscot grand jury continued this evening, and it is understood that the report to be made at the opening of court Tuesday contains 261 indictments, including every liquor dealer in this city and county.

There is no doubt that all liquor men have been indicted. Tonight a panic seems to have seized upon the saloon men and they have been leaving the city in large numbers. Nothing is to be gained by flight, however, unless the exiles are content to remain away from Bangor permanently.

Some of the most prominent men engaged in the liquor business cannot be found tonight, and it is supposed that they have gone on an extended vacation to avoid a full sentence, taking their chances of a settlement after the adjournment of court, or of a continuance to February.

Temperance Sentiment Grows.

The local option election shows the drift of public sentiment—a large majority being in favor of temperance. And this is true of all parts of the country. It is evident that within a few years, no intoxicating liquors will be sold as a beverage, excepting in the cities. There are many causes for this change in public sentiment, the principal one of which is an enlightened, aroused public conscience. The majority of the citizens look at the right and wrong of the question. With all their churches and their ministry arrayed in solid phalanx against the liquor traffic, supplemented by all religious papers and many secular newspapers, it is no wonder that the temperance cause is growing. It is a fact that many local newspapers stand with the Enterprise in refusing to carry saloon ads, and the time is at hand when all local papers will be driven to take the same position. Christian temperance people will refuse to admit any paper to their homes, that are filled with liquor advertisements to tempt their boys. It certainly isn't very consistent for church people to pray, "lead us not into temptation," and then arise from his knees and hand a newspaper over to his boys to read, filled with glowing and enticing saloon ads—Providence Enterprise.

Discovered a Cave.

A special from Gallatin, Tenn., to the American, dated Sept. 8, says: "James McGregor, a farmer living near Mt. Nebo was plowing on the side of a large hill when suddenly the earth caved in and McGregor, his mule and plow were buried under about ten feet of earth. A negro boy who was in the field at the time and witnessed the caving in, ran to a nearby store and told several men, who with picks and shovels went at once to the scene. After working for some time McGregor was recovered alive, but was unconscious. After several hours he was restored to his senses.

The place in which McGregor fell is a cave some twenty feet deep, and McGregor is falling landed on a pile of rocks back of which is a small room and which kept him from suffocation. The mule was smothered to death. Several men climbed down in the cave, and walked some distance in it, and state that it is about three miles long.

COL. BELKNAP ON PARDONS.

Gives Out Interview in Reply to Questions asked by Gov. Beckham.

DECLINES TO MAKE ANY PROMISES.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—Col. Belknap has given the Louisville Herald the following interview on the subject of pardons, in reply to certain declarations made and questions asked by Gov. Beckham in his Winchester speech.

The statement Col. Belknap dictated is as follows:

Mr. Beckham, in opening his campaign, has seen fit to go into the question of pardons. He has made a declaration and a promise and demands that I shall do the like. He specifically promises that he will not pardon Jett and White, and by implication promises that he will not pardon Powers, Howard and Yonters. I shall not under any circumstances enter into competition with Mr. Beckham in the making of promises.

He has made such promises before, and has broken them. When he was a candidate three years ago, under exactly similar circumstances, he made the most solemn vow he promised the State that he would never pardon any man convicted of murder by a fair jury.

OUGHT NOT TO HAVE BEEN MADE.

He made that promise on a stump and broke it in the office. I hope in some instances, at least, he was justified in breaking it. He ought never to have made it. The law and the charity of human nature intended the prerogative of clemency to be conscientiously exercised in cases where justice otherwise would fail. But Mr. Beckham has broken his promise so often in fact as well as in spirit that there is nothing left of it, and now he makes a new one in its place.

WILL MAKE NO PROMISE.

For myself, I will make no promise as to how I will decide any case until I have read the record and heard the facts. No decent candidate for a Judgeship will promise before he is elected how he will decide a particular case. The granting or refusal of a pardon is, at least in part, a judicial act.

But I will promise this, and the promise shall be kept. If I am elected Governor of Kentucky, and any application for pardon is made to me, I will give it the fullest consideration. No matter what the condition, race, color, religion or politics of the applicant, if I believe it to be a proper case for pardon, and my conscience approves, I will issue the pardon.

NO PARDONS FOR ## POLITICAL REASONS.

I will not pardon Powers or any one else for a political reason. Proud as I should be to be elected Governor of this Commonwealth, I would rather lose the office than to feel that I had staked the life or liberty of even the meanest of my fellow citizens on a game of political ambition.

That is all I have to say on the subject, said Col. Belknap when he had concluded. I don't see how I could say more or less.

Fert Swollen to Immense Size. "I had kidney trouble so bad that I could not work," says J. J. Cox, of Valley View, Ky. "My kidneys were swollen to immense size and I was confined to my bed and physicians were unable to give me any relief. My doctor finally prescribed Foley's Kidney Cure which made a well man of me."

NOVEL FEATURE.

A Traveling Restaurant Introduced by the L. & N. R. R.

A novel feature has introduced into southern travel. The plan is that providing breakfast en route for passengers on the early morning trains of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad from New Orleans to Gulf Coast points. The arrangement was put in service on August 30. Probably the most notable feature of the outfit consist of a movable table, or "traveler," about five feet long and somewhat narrower than the width of the coach aisles. Thus far the innovation is said to be working satisfactorily, and there is a possibility of its being extended to other branches of the Louisville & Nashville, as an experiment.

The operation of this portable restaurant is interestingly described as follows: The menu which is offered consists of coffee, sandwiches, steamed eggs, ice cream and cake. The coffee is kept steaming hot and served from gigantic urns which were modeled especially for the work. On one end of the "traveler" is the urn of coffee and on the other end a huge receptacle in which is kept boiled milk. Between the two vessels are the sandwiches each wrapped in wax paper, and the other foods. Beneath this is a shelf where the tableware, cups, saucers and ice cream freezers are kept.

Two white-coated, white-capped, aproned attendants are in charge of the "traveler." They begin at the forward end of the train and supply the wants of everybody on board, passing from car to car. This arrangement makes a good lunch at least for the early morning traveler, and for the all-night traveler, who has just awakened, with a cigar in comfort afterward for any who are inclined to the comfort.

Wasted Economy.

A man was stranded in Norway with only enough money in his pocket to pay his passage back to England. He thought the matter over and came to the conclusion that he would buy a ticket and as the sea trip only lasted a couple of days he would go without food that length of time. He realized that if he remained in Norway and spent his money he could never be able to get back home.

So he went on board the steamer and bought his ticket. He closed his ears to the sound of the lunch bell, and when dinner time came and a fellow passenger asked him to accompany to the dining room he politely declined on the ground that he never ate at sea.

The next morning he skipped breakfast by sleeping late, and at lunch he kept to his room. By dinner time at night, however, he was so hungry that he could have eaten a pair of shoes. "I am going to eat," he said, "even if I am thrown overboard afterwards. I might as well be drowned as starve."

At the dinner table he ate everything in sight. Then he braced himself for the explosion. "Bring me the bill," he said to the steward. "The bill," queried the steward. "There isn't any bill," was the reply. "On this ship meals go with the passage ticket."

Kentucky Story by Opie Reid.

Opie Reid tells of an attorney in Kentucky who was driving along the road one day when his horse shied and broke one of the shafts of the buggy. He was wondering what he should do when an old darkey came along.

The darkey saw the trouble, went to the side of the road, cut a hickory switch and pealed it. With the peeling he bound the broken shaft together so that it was strong enough for the journey to be resumed.

The attorney gave the negro a coin and at the same time thanked him. "I would never have thought of mending it that way," he said.

"I 'spect not," replied the darkey. "Some men is just naturally smarter than others,—New York Times.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 10, 1903.

The meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Press Association held at the Galt House Louisville, Saturday last was a working meeting out of which it is believed plans may come for the general good of the newspapers of the State. Among other things discussed, the Midwinter business session, inaugurated last January, was talked of as a certainty and the committee present were as a unit in its favor. The business side of the Association has been cultivated as never before during the past two years and it is the purpose of the present officers and Executive Committee of the Association to give this part of association work all possible encouragement. It is hoped that every paper in Kentucky will be seen on the membership list before the next annual meeting.

FATHER BAERT, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church at Marshall, Mich., has made public a part of the oath required of members by the typographical union, as follows:

"I hereby solemnly and sincerely swear that my fidelity to the typographical union and my duty to the members thereof, shall in no sense be interfered with by allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political or religious."

The rector denounced in a sermon on education this outrageous oath. He said this oath places the union before the State and distinctly impeaches the loyalty and Catholicity of those who take such an oath. The tendency of such an oath is certainly toward socialism and anarchy.

The West Point Military Academy is now under new rules regarding the use of tobacco and the boys are happily puffing their pipes "during relief from quarters." The use of cigarettes is discouraged but pipes and pipe tobaccos are sold at the commissary stores. The superintendent and other members of the faculty has concluded that the use of pipes will be less harmful than the secret use of cigarettes, which the total prohibition of tobacco encouraged.

Personal and Peculiar.

A sort of a lump-colic epidemic of a peculiar but not dangerous type seems to have prevailed about Earlington for some. The microbes seems not to be weakened by the light of day, if there be coal microbes, as are other disease germs, but on the contrary thrives in the open air. The spread of the malady has been marked by the spread-eagle antics of the victims marked by it, none of whom have been seriously hit. Not long since a clearly marked case first to be noted was that of Squire Head, weighmaster at the Arnold mine. Singularly enough the lump attacked him on the head, coming from some upper region and knocking a small hole in that important part of the Squire's anatomy. More recently the veteran weighmaster, James Fegan, had an exactly similar attack, but, being strong minded, he was only spread out for a few seconds and shows no pit marks on the skull.

The disease was then seen to be contagious in the region of coal tipples where the microbe was most numerous, but it was hoped that others than weighmasters were immune. This theory has been dispelled and even high-class brickmasons are not strenuous enough to withstand the sudden attacks, Fred Rootz caught it at Hecla tippel last Friday, when a new phase was developed, proving that although it is possible to be affected below the seat of the brain, the attacks are most likely to occur in the region of gray matter and spinal cord. Fred was struck in the small of the back. Health Officer Chaffin is considering the advisability of establishing quarantine in the region of adjacent coal tipples.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite, if not a household necessity, is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery.

SPECIAL RAILROAD EDITION.

The Bee Will Issue Illustrated Number Devoted to Henderson Division L. & N.

INTERESTING HISTORIC DATA WILL BE PUBLISHED FOR FIRST TIME.

THE Bee's special railroad edition will be one of the best railroad papers ever issued in Kentucky. In addition to the personal write-ups of the railroad men of the Henderson Division and their half-tone cuts, it will contain views of important railroad buildings along the line, such as the new passenger station at Evansville, the round-houses at Howell and Earlington, the depot at Earlington and other places and views of passenger and freight trains. A complete history of the Henderson Division from the time it was surveyed up to the present time, the changes it has undergone and a great deal of interesting railroad data will be given in this edition.

A great many of the men on the division have already subscribed for copies of the special railroad edition and others are subscribing every day. We wish to make this a thoroughly creditable special edition of THE BEE and want the cooperation of every railroad man on the Henderson Division. It is gotten up in their interest and benefit and consequently should receive their liberal patronage.

W. F. Sheridan, our recent train master said before he left for Mexico that a railroad paper of this character was worth $5 to any H. D. railroad man now and in the course of time would be worth $20, on account of the personal write-ups of the men if nothing else.

All of the dispatchers, including the chief, several conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen have already signed contracts for copies of the edition. Foreman H. O'Brien is a subscriber, as is also Mr. Walsh and Supt. Jno. W. Lordson, of Evansville. We want every employee of the H. D. to get this edition of THE BEE and feel sure it is well worth the price asked.

A Woman's Complexion.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove blemishes or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics or "local" treatment, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottles, each, regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists.

Making a Man.

(New Orleans Picayune). Hurry the baby as fast as you can, Hurry him, worry him, make him a man. Or with his baby clothes, get him in pants. Feed him on brain foods and make him advance. Hustle him soon as he's able to walk, into the grammar school; cram him with talk. Fill his poor head full of figures and facts.

Keep on jumping them in till it cracks. Once boys grow up at a rational rate. Now we develop a man while you wait.

Rush him through college, compel him to grab Of every known subject a dip and a dab. Get him in business and after the season.

All by the time he can grow a mustache. Let him forget he was ever a boy. Make gold his god, and its jingle his joy.

Keep him a-bustling and clear out of breath Until he wins—nervous prostration and death.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

Let Us Help You Find a Home in the Southwest.

Along the Cotton Belt Route, where land can be bought for $2.45, $5 an acre up—cut-over timber land that affords good range for live stock; rich bottom lands for corn, wheat, oats, cotton; uplands for fruits and vegetables—peaches, pears, plums, strawberries, tomatoes, potatoes, onions, melons—finding good markets at fancy prices in the North on account of excellent qualities and marketing ahead of other sections. A land where living is cheap—lumber at $7 to $8 a thousand, fuel for the cutting, range for the stock nearly the year round, garden truck for the table from March to December. The farmer who pays his high rent in the North, or tills waste soil in the East, is missing some of the best things of life by not securing a home in the Southwest.

Sensible. An exchange commends the following to the young man on the farm:

"Twenty-five dollars a month to a young man with farm, lodging and washing on board is more than the equivalent of $75 in a city; besides, if he desires education, his opportunities are better for self education in the country than they are in the town. Thousands of young men drift every year into the cities with bright prospects and after years of hard work find themselves no better off than when they started in, whereas, had they remained on the farm, they might have found themselves happily settled and thoroughly independent of the vicissitudes of city life."

CHEAP LANDS

For Homeseekers and Colonies.

The country along the Cotton Belt Route in Southeast Missouri, Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana and Texas offers the greatest opportunities for Homeseekers. Mild climate, good water, cheap building materials, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.50 an acre, prairie land at $4 and $5 per acre up, bottom land at $5 and $6 per acre up, improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $15 per acre up. Some propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 8,000 acres at $4 to $10 per acre—will be in this for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap rates, excursion dates, also literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you no more than the rent you pay every year.

ROTTENNESS IN OKLAHOMA

ASTOUNDING FRAUDS IN PUBLIC WORKS
Charged by United States Attorney Sneed.

INVESTIGATION RESULTS IN SEVERAL INDICTMENTS.

Wherever Public Work Has Been Performed in Recent Days Has Been Considered as a Legitimate Object of Grift of the Most Pervasive Character.

Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 6.—Forty bridges condemned, one public building torn down as worthless, three county commissioners indicted from justice indictments against many county officials, a suit by the government to recover $12,000 of public money alleged to have been fraudulently expended and other indictments returned against a prominent contractor, form part of the results of the investigation, commenced several weeks ago, in southwestern Oklahoma, by Horace Sneed, United States attorney for Oklahoma, acting under orders from the department of justice, against J. W. Stokes, a contractor.

An indictment was also returned against former Sheriff Hobbs. The suit at Hobbs charges a conspiracy to defraud the government, between Stokes and three commissioners of Kiowa county, namely: W. B. Poole, J. A. Blair and W. J. Ryan. These three are said to be fugitives from justice. Regarding conditions in southwestern Oklahoma, Mr. Sneed says:

"Everything seems to be rotten in connection with public works here. At first, after the opening, the secretary of the interior tried to get the money from the town lots sales, apparently for the purpose of allowing the county and city officials to determine what public improvements were most needed locally, and to use the town lots fund to pay for them after constructed to the satisfaction of those officers."

"Under that theory, apparently twenty or more sets of bridge piers were erected in Comanche county, under contract with county officials. All have since been condemned as unfit. About twenty-one sets were erected in Kiowa county, and bills were put in for $10,000 of those for which bills were submitted, it is certain that three were never constructed. The county officials certified to all as up to the standard, with contracts, inspected and accepted."

"In both cases bills were presented to the government in one estimate and measure, and afterward to the county, as upon a reamendment, an excess being shown over the estimate presented to the government. Then, after both the government and the county had paid the bills, other accounts for the same bridges were shown to the county and government payments were put in, without any reference whatever to any prior payment."

TO PAINT PIUS' PORTRAIT.

H. J. Thaddeus, the Well-Known Irish Painter, to Paint Portrait of Pope Pius X.

Rome, Sept. 6.—H. J. Thaddeus, the well-known Irish painter whose portraits of Pope Pius IX, Leo XIII, Mr. Gladstone and other prominent persons have won him considerable fame, obtained the privilege of being the first to paint a picture of the present pope. To a remark of Mr. Thaddeus that he always heard the pope had dark eyes, while, really, they were blue, "like those of the Irish," the pontiff replied: "Then we are of the same race."

The pope has expressed himself as being most satisfied with the studies which Mr. Thaddeus expects to finish before Christmas.

RELIEF WARMLY GREETED.

Covered With Flags, the Victorious Helmsmen Passed Up the Bay Amid Cordial Greetings.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Reliance, in tow of the tug Guiding Star, left the horseshoe early Friday morning on her way up the bay. Both yacht and tug were covered with flags. Passengers and those at anchor gave the victorious craft a cordial greeting as she passed upon the harbor.

No Dollar Gas For Toledo.

Toledo, Kas., Sept. 6.—The city of Toledo has lost its fight for dollar gas. Two years ago the council passed an ordinance requiring the local gas company to furnish gas at a rate of one thousand feet. The company enjoined the city, and brought suit to annul the ordinance. Friday morning, Judge Brock decided the rate to be confiscatory, and the ordinance, therefore, illegal.

NEW RULE AT WEST POINT.

Cadets at the Military Academy May Smoke Pipes.

The Opinion Has Prevailed That the Open Pipe Is Less Harmful Than the Secret Cigarette.

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 8.—An order has been published, announcing that "cadets are permitted to use tobacco during relief from quarters" within the barracks limits. It was also announced that cadets would be permitted to buy tobacco and pipes from the post store. The order came as a complete surprise to everybody at the academy except Col. Mills, the commander. It was the result of a recommendation made by Col. Mills to the secretary of war a month or more ago. It went into effect on Saturday.

For 200 years no restriction upon the freedom of the cadets has been more irksome than the prohibition of the use of tobacco. It was impossible to enforce the rule. Smoking on the sly has been the practice of almost every cadet in the academy throughout his course. Most of the smoking has been cigarette smoking. The penalty for being caught smoking cigarettes or any other form of tobacco has varied with the superintendents of the academy. Under Col. Mills the penalty has been six extra hours of duty. He also reported from five to seven demerits on his record.

BRITISH DETERIORATION.

Inquiry Into the Deterioration of the British Character, and Great Britain Insanitized.

London, Sept. 6.—The government has issued a circular, to inquire into the alleged physical deterioration of the lower classes in the United Kingdom.

The subject was brought up in the house of commons by Sir Wm. R. Anson, parliamentary secretary to the board of education. He stated that 50,000 children now attending London schools are physically unfit for instruction.

The director-general of the army medical service reports that one man in every three offered as recruits had to be rejected.

DANVILLE RIFTERS CONVICTED.

Eleven Men and One Woman Decried Guilty of Attacking Jail with Live Bombs.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 7.—Verdicts of guilty were returned Saturday, August 12 rioters who assaulted the Danville jail on July 25. The following were found guilty: Benjamin A. Baker, Baker, Jack Alton, William Redwine, Mine Mobaker, John Isaac, Isaac Newman Slade, John Robertson, Thomas H. Horne Murphy, Adam Merry, D. L. Menfer.

Richard Roberts and John Keeser were found guilty of being accessories to "assaulting the Danville jail with live bombs."

WILL NOT CAMP AT THE FAIR.

Gov. Yates Denies the STORY OF HOLDING ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARD IN ST. LOUIS.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7.—Gov. Yates said it is impracticable to have the Illinois national guard mobilized at the World's fair in St. Louis next year, instead of having the camp at Camp Lincoln, this city. It was reported in a number of papers the other day that the governor had decided to mobilize at St. Louis. The governor says the state does not possess one-tenth the number of tents, for one thing, and that there are other considerations which put it out of the question.

WANTS TO HONOR ISLEIN.

Commodore Tifford Wants to Recognize Mr. C. O. Iselin's Services in Some Manner.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 8.—In view of the published report of Mr. C. O. Iselin's retirement from further international cup races, Commodore Frank Pifford of the Indian Harbor Yacht club thinks it appropriate that some public recognition should be made of his very successful efforts in defense of the America's cup, not only during the late contest, but on many former occasions as well.

Mr. Iselin has contributed his time and great ability as a yachtsman at great cost and personal inconvenience, and Commodore Tifford has no doubt that the various yacht clubs and lovers of the sport and the public will be only too glad to co-operate in showing him in some manner the appreciation of his talents and service.

Longing Train Kills Two Women. Marshallfield, Md., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Frank Bickford and Mrs. E. A. Gibson were run over and killed, Friday, by a logging train on the Daniel's Creek railway at King's Camp. The women attempted to get on board while the cars were moving slowly. One mislaid her footing and in her fall grasped the garments of the other, taking her down under the wheels with her. The bodies were badly mangled. Mrs. Bickford's husband was in charge of the train as engineer.

Mrs. Sarah Brightwell. Trenton, N. J., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Sarah Brightwell, one of the pioneer women of southeastern Missouri, died in this city Saturday morning. She was 76 years of age.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS

Under Favorable Weather Conditions Early Corn is Maturing Quite Rapidly.

LATE CORN HAS ADVANCED IN A SATISFACTORY MANNER.

Spring Wheat Harvest is Nearly Completed in the Northern Rocky Mountain States, But Rain Has Delayed the Harvest in the Dakotas.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin: Early corn is maturing rapidly, some fields being safe from frost and cutting is progressing in southern and central sections of the corn belt. Late corn has advanced satisfactorily generally in the corn states except Iowa, and under favorable conditions the bulk of the crop will be safe in two or three weeks. In Iowa it is maturing slowly, and the crop needs rain in Kansas, Arkansas, southern Missouri and states of the upper Ohio valley.

Spring wheat harvest is nearly completed in the northern Rocky mountain states and threshing is general. Rains have again delayed stacking and threshing in North Dakota, and this work has been somewhat retarded by damp grain in shock in South Dakota, and by cloudy and damp weather in southern Minnesota, which has caused damage to wheat in shock and stack. Complaints of rust and sheathing are general throughout the cotton belt and the result of the condition of cotton has deteriorated during the past week.

"Prospects for an average crop of apples are reported from portions of New England, middle Atlantic states, Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma; a light crop is promised in Missouri and less than the average in New York, although the fruit is of good quality in the last named state."

Drought conditions have delayed plowing in the Ohio valley and Oklahoma, and more rain is needed to prepare the soil in Washington. Excellent progress has been made with this work in other sections and wheat seeding has begun in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

ROOSEVELT AT SYRACUSE.

President Roosevelt's Labor Day Speech at Syracuse, N. Y.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Following are some of the pungent points made by President Roosevelt in his Labor day address here Monday:

"The line of cleavage between good citizenship and bad citizenship separates the rich man who does well from the rich man who does ill, the poor man of good conduct from the poor man of bad conduct."

"Let the watchwords of all our people be the family, the church, the honesty, decency, fair dealing and common sense."

"There is no worse enemy of the workers than the man who goes on violence."

"Legislation to be permanently good for the class must also be good for the nation as a whole."

"There is no room in our healthy American life for the mere idler."

"A republic such as ours can exist only in virtue of the orderly liberty which comes through the equal domination of the law over all alike."

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

National Committee Called to Meet in Chicago, December 10 Next, to Fix the Date.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Oliver W. Stewart, chairman of the national prohibition committee, has issued the call for that committee to meet at the Auditorium hotel, Chicago, at 10 a. m. Wednesday, December 16, for the purpose of fixing the date and place of the next national prohibition convention. The committee consists of two members from each state and territory, and it is expected that all will have at least one representative present, while a large majority of them will have two.

SEVEN MORE INDICTMENTS.

The Federal Grand Jury at Washington Still Grinding Out Postal Fraud Indictments.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The federal grand jury has returned seven indictments in postal cases. The names of those indicted have not been divulged. Although there are seven indictments, there are but six defendants, indicating that one of them is indicted in two capacities.

The officials of the district attorney's office refuse to disclose the names of the parties indicted until warrants for their arrest have been served. The cases are said to be decided outside of Washington.

Killed in a Race Riot. Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 8.—During a race riot late Monday night in a saloon at Monessen, between white and colored miners, Lemuel Gilmore, white, was fatally shot by George Williams, colored. The murderer escaped.

Alleged Attempted Fratricide. Trenton, N. J., Sept. 8.—Stephen Karas is in jail here, accused by his brother Francis of having attempted to cause his death. The brothers had quarreled over property in Hungary.

CHARGE AGAINST STANDARD OIL CO.

Independent Companies at Beaumont, Tex., Declare They Have Been Ruined.

WELLS HAVE BEEN FLOODED WITH A BRINY CONCOCTION.

As Fast As a Company Went to the Well, It is Alleged, Its Property Was Bought in by the Standard Oil Co.—An Investigation in Progress.

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—A special to the St. Louis Republic from Dallas, Texas, says:

The Fort Worth Telegram of Sunday prints a most startling story concerning the Beaumont oil field. It states that its informant is one of the most prominent men of Fort Worth, just returned from Beaumont.

This man declares that the Standard Oil Co. has caused the ruin of many of the small companies by injecting salt water in their wells, thus ruining the oils.

Recently some of the leading men of the wrecked companies determined to investigate, and in two days' time they raised $27,000 with which to push the work. The developments, it is declared, are simply astounding. It has been ascertained that the numerous oil wells which were apparently ruined by the small companies by injecting salt water were put in their condition by conspirators.

As fast as a company went to the well its property was bought in by the Standard.

The Standard Oil Co. long ago built a pipe line from Beaumont to the Gulf of Mexico. A pumping station was erected at Beaumont and another at the Gulf. Oil was pumped through the pipe line to the Gulf, and then shipped to various parts of the world. Suddenly many wells of independent companies began to dry up.

The ruin of the wells is part of the history of the field. One day not long ago one of the pumping stations got out of working order, and then shipping to the Gulf had to be suspended while repairs were being made.

Suddenly wells that had been given out fully one-half salt water began pouring nothing but good fuel oil. That put the investigation on foot.

The investigation, it is said, was plugging up the pipe line at the Beaumont end. They drove several miles into the country, dug into the ground over the pipe line, made a tapping into the line, and salt water gushed into the air nearly 100 feet.

The claim is that the pressure was from the oil pumping station, and that salt water was being pumped to Beaumont and into the wells that the conspirators desired to wreck; that there was no pressure from the Beaumont end, because of the plugging of the pipe.

The informant of the Telegram declares that a force of detectives is on the case.

TROOPS ARE CALLED OUT.

The Governor of Colorado Sends Militia to Cripple Creek Mining District.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Sept. 9.—Gov. Peabody, Friday, issued a call for troops to suppress the alleged disorder in the Cripple Creek mining district, and militia were rushed into the camp on special trains.

Four hundred and fifty men, including infantry and cavalry, will be called out. The call was issued at the earnest prayer of the mine owners.

INJURED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Jefferson City Woman Fatally Injured, While Child is Also Badly Hurt.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 5.—The four-year-old son of Ben Nilges, of this city, was playing with a railroad car when it exploded, it exploded, maiming the child's hands and face, and fatally injuring Mrs. Nilges. Pieces of the tin struck her in the right side and produced a dangerous wound.

STRIKE WILL COST MILLIONS.

New Orleans Will Lose Heavily if Longshoremen Refuse to Accede to Demands.

New Orleans, Sept. 5.—Unless the longshoremen accede to the combined demands of ship agents and stevedores the entire port will be tied up by a lock-out of the United Fruit Co. has already, by cable, ordered all its vessels to land at Mobile. This means the loss of millions to this port.

Six Team Breaks All Records. Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 7.—Corbett and Sullivan, a Sioux City fire team, broke all world records at the Interstate fair here in a half mile, running straight, laying 150 feet of hose, breaking and attaching nozzle ready to throw water in 1:10 1/4.

IT IS NOW UP TO BOGOTA

State Department's Attitude is One of Dignified Patience.

Bogota Government Informed That It is Up To Them to Ratify First Treaty.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The state department, Monday, received a routine message from Mr. Beaupre, the American minister at Bogota, acknowledging the receipt of Secretary Hay's cablegram of August 26, stating that the Washington government would enter into no engagement which would hamper the president's freedom of action under the law. This was all the cablegram stated, although it has been the basis for speculative reports about Mr. Beaupre's ideas of the Bogota situation. The state department's attitude is one of dignified patience. No indication of its course of action in the event that the Colombian congress rejects or amends the treaty will be forthcoming until the time for the exchange of the ratification expires September 22. It is known at the state department that the Colombian congress already is regretting its hasty action in rejecting the treaty, but the state department will suggest no remedy for the mistake. Once and for all the state department has announced that the treaty as approved by the Washington government was ratified by the American senate. It is up to the Bogota government to ratify that identical treaty if Colombia desires an isthmian canal. The state department denies all reports as to the connection of this government or even its interest in the canal on the isthmus as too trivial for consideration. Mr. Herran, the Colombian charge, indignantly scolds the idea that the United States would lend itself to the encouragement of this untrust.

BEAVERS SURRENDERS.

Former Head of the Salary and Allowances Division of the Post Office Department Surrenders.

New York, Sept. 9.—George W. Beavers, the former head of the salary and allowances division of the postoffice department at Washington, surrendered himself in the custody of United States marshals at Hitchcock, today, and gave $5,000 bond for his appearance before Commissioner Hitchcock on September 15.

THE REV. H. F. JORDAN DEAD.

Veteran Baptist Minister Passes Away at His Home at Panna, Ill.

Panna, Ill., Sept. 7.—Rev. H. F. Jordan, a Baptist preacher, died Saturday, at his home in this city. He was a graduate of Georgetown college, Ky., and also of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville, Ky. He furnished the money for the famous "The Great Escape" at Simpsonville, Ky., and was principal of these for 22 years. He preached at Panna for 40 years, and was of Illinois and had a wide reputation.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Mayor of Tuscola, Ill., Attacked by Two Men Concealed in His Bar.

Tuscola, Ill., Sept. 7.—Two men attempted to assassinate Mayor Charles C. McMillan, Sunday night, as he was entering his bar to put up his horse after a drive. The men were concealed for the purpose of attacking Mayor McMillan with paving bricks, felling him twice with blows on the head. One blow was struck from behind. The mayor escaped by running to the door.

TO PROTECT FEMALES.

Berlin to Have a Special Police Force to Protect Women and Girls From Mischief.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—The ministry of the interior has directed the police to make to organize special police, in plain clothes, to protect women and girls from the attentions of men on the streets. These daylight assaults are probably practiced more in Berlin than in any other continental city.

NATION'S FIVE MILLIONS.

Robert Fullerton, of Des Moines, Ia., to Disburse the Government's World's Fair Money.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The secretary of the treasury has appointed Robert Fullerton, of Des Moines, Ia., disbursing officer to disburse the $5,000,000 appropriated by congress in aid of the St. Louis exposition.

Losses Leg in Boarding a Car. St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Michael Kelly's effort, Tuesday, to board a crowded car going at full speed caused him to lose his leg. He fell and his leg was severed below the knee and was carried in the trucks for 50 feet before the car was stopped. The car was commandeered by the motorman Edward McDermott, would not stop for more passengers. Kelly was determined to board the car. He fell and his leg was severed below the knee and was carried in the trucks for 50 feet before the car was stopped.

Wreck on the Frisco.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 9.—A bad wreck occurred on the Frisco one mile south of Joplin Springs, Kas., early Tuesday morning, in which 12 people were injured, two fatally. A local passenger train ran into a freight train standing on the main line. It exploded, and is an unknown colored woman and an invalid white woman, who were traveling with two small children.

LEAVING THE OLD HOME.

What a life of heart aches it is for the mother and father when Jim makes up his mind to leave the old home on the farm and go to the city to make his fortune.

No use to plead with Jim, no use to tell him it is a thousand times better to stay on the farm with mother and father who have worked for him and cared for him until their backs are bent and hair is turning gray. No use to tell him a life on the farm, where the sun shines and the birds lift their songs of praise, where the air is pure and all nature conspires to make a man better and life worth living, is a hundred percent, better than an uncertain crowded city life, where every step is beset by sin and temptation, with no helping hand outstretched and no mother's counsel to guide.

Jim has heard of a neighbor boy who went to the city a year or two ago and is now wearing a diamond as large as a marble; who pays more for one suit of clothes than Jim makes in six months. Yea, but Jim you don't know how Gentleman Bob made that money; you don't know that for every diamond he buys and every new suit of clothes he gets some mother's child subsists on dry bread or broken bits of food from the cold hand of charity; you don't know that a woman once the fairest of her kind, with eyes as blue as the sky, and hair as brown as a nut, is now a miserable, heart-broken creature, clothed in rags, an outcast from society, all because Gentleman Bob and hundreds of men like him go to the city without any definite aim, and drift into the disreputable business of selling liquor, gambling, dealing fair, and kindred business.

Better stay on the farm, Jim. Unless the position is already secured, you stand about as much shod to secure a respectable one as a dove would in escaping from a den of rattlesnakes. It seems hard to have to plow the same old fields and do the same old round of work year after year, but the time will come, and maybe soon, when the gray-haired father or mother, as the case may be, will fall to awaken some morning at the accustomed time; when you will call, but there will be no answer. You place your trembling hand on the wrinkled brow and it is still and cold in death. Then when you have folded the toll-worn hands across the lifeless breast—those hands that have brushed away so many childish tears; that have bound up so many childish wounds—and laid the lifeless lay in its last resting place, you will thank God for your heart that you did not desert your parents in their old age. The farm will take on new beauty; the tree that mother planted in the front yard will become a sacred thing; the barn that you assisted father to build will be a hundred fold more dear to you than when you were every crook and turn about the old house where you were born will call forth some precept of father or example of mother.

Don't leave the old home, Jim. You can't afford it. Your chances for happiness and Heaven are a million times greater if you stick to the home on the farm.

THE BIG STATE FAIR

$20,000 in Cash Premiums and Many of the Country's Best Amusement Shows Free—Low Railroad Rates.

WILL DRAW THOUSANDS TO OWENSBORO SEPT. 21 TO 26.

The biggest state fair ever held south of the Ohio river will be opened at Owensboro, the hustling little Western Kentucky city, on Monday, Sept. 21, lasting throughout the week. Cash premiums amounting to over $20,000 will be distributed for the best exhibits of agricultural products, mining products and live stock, fowls, pigeons, hares, and the handicraft of the women of Kentucky or of other states. There will be the finest free amusement shows that the country affords for fair purposes, including many fairs of dancing never before seen in this state. In fact, the State Fair will be almost on the proportions of a great exposition, and those who win premiums may well feel proud of the honor, besides the financial benefits derived.

SOME OF THE PREMIUMS.

$6,400 for beef cattle.
$1,000 for dairy cattle.
$4,300 for horses.
$800 for mules and jack stock.
$1,300 for swine.
$1,800 for sheep.
$1,000 for poultry, pigeons and Belgian hares.
$750 for women's department.
$4,000 for other exhibits.

SOME OF THE FREE ATTRACTIONS.

The celebrated Dr. Carver.
Broncho John's Wild West Show.
High diving bicycle rider.
Harmonized outfit races.
Horse racing (no betting).
Football for state championship.
Exhibition of educated horses, champion cakewalker of the world.
Kurkamp's fine Military Band concerts.

Dare Devil Schreyer, the world renowned high diver, will appear every afternoon in his wonderful high dive bicycle act, the first time ever presented in the state. He rides down a steep incline 60 ft. above ground at the lower end, jumps from his wheel, and dives into a shallow tank 100 ft. from the base of the chute. This is one of the most thrilling and dangerous feats ever enacted by any person. This attraction alone is worth the price of admission to the fair.

All railroads entering Owensboro have granted a rate of one fare and 25 cents extra for the round trip. The L. & N. & St. L. will run excursions from Louisville to Owensboro and return on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, leaving Louisville at 7 a. m., and arriving at Owensboro at 10 a. m. Returning, the train leaves Owensboro at 6 p. m. and reaches Louisville at 9 p. m.

An Open Door to Ruin.

We would be very glad to impress our brothers of the country press with the very great dangers that lie in wait for the multitude of young girls that are flocking to our cities, especially St. Louis, and notably at this time. The country press is a tremendous power for good and if they would keep this matter before their readers, constantly warning all as to this open door to ruin, many lives would be saved who else would be lost. The gateway to St. Louis, our great Union depot, is beset by a thousand snares for unwary feet. Any young girl who comes through the gates into the mid-way is at once spotted, and if it be possible the snare will be so spread in her path that she cannot escape. No girl should come here unless absolutely certain as to her course. The many tempting advertisements are mere baits for ignorance and innocence. And if she comes to the city ready to take the first carriage whose driver proposes to take her to a good boarding house, or to accept the first situation offered where no experience is required, she may as well bid adieu to innocence and hope when she leaves her home. And as a matter of course the young man is also almost equally exposed so far as moral or even physical safety is concerned. If the country papers will only keep these things before their readers they will serve God and humanity.—St. Louis Christian Advocate.

People who have wondered what the rest cure was for received a flood of light in the discovery of the "liver disease."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To Be Voted On at the November Election.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

"The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS TO provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon."

"Provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of the ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light or electric power company."

A Toast to the Horse.

"Here's to that bundle of sentiment nerves, with the heart of a woman, the eye of a gazelle, the courage of a gladiator, the docility of a slave, the proud carriage of a king, and the blind obedience of a soldier; the companion of the desert plain, that turns the moist furrows in the spring in order that all the world may have abundant harvest, that furnishes the sport of kings, that with blazing eyes and distended nostrils fearlessly leads our greatest generals through carnage and renown, whose blood forms one of the ingredients that go to make the ink in which all history is written, and who finally, in black trappings, puts the humblest of to the newly soddied threshold of eternity."—Selected.

A Mammoth Tree.

A mammoth tree was cut on the McElroy land above Uniontown this week by Ed Pike and hauled to W. D. Kelley's saw mill, which is located on the McElroy land. The log measured sixty feet to the first limb and measured 45 inches in diameter at the smaller end. The tree was sawed into five logs each, 12 feet in length, and from the first log 1,700 feet of lumber was sawed. The tree was of the yellow bottom oak variety and was round and straight and clear of any imperfection.—Telegram.

Pride Had a Fall.

A Chariton, Iowa, paper tells of a man who mortgaged his farm to buy his wife a pair of diamond earrings. The wife took in washing to pay the interest on the mortgage, but the first job she lost one of the "sparks" in the ends, whereupon she tried to hang herself in the barn, but the rope broke and she fell on a Jersey cow worth $150 and broke its back. Her husband then undertook to shoot the cow to end its misery, but the gun burst and destroyed his eyes and his wife ran away with a lightning rod peddler. The mortgage is still on the farm.

MORPHINE.

Can Morphine and Other Drug Habits be Cured?

It has been long contended by physicians that there is no cure for the drug habit. This is true so far as the rank and file of the medical profession are concerned. The reason, therefore, is that they are ignorant of the full scope and nature of the disease; but fortunately for the cause of suffering humanity we have demonstrated that the morphine or other drug habit can be cured and guarantee an absolute, permanent and painless cure to those addicted to the use of drugs if they will take our treatment and follow our instructions.

Each case submitted to us receives individual attention and treatment from an experienced nerve specialist. We do not detain you in business. We give immediate relief. Appetite for drugs is destroyed and appetite for food is restored.

ELLEN N.

BLUE G. BARD.

Oh, Ellen N., sweet Ellen N.,
You roam the country o'er,
From the northern rivers
To the wide Atlantic's roar.

I know there are many others,
But none dear to me like you,
They do not cause my heart to throb,
As you often do.

You are my first and only love,
Thou' other lines I've tried,
I e'er return to Ellen N.,
My heart's delight and pride.

Your roadbed is the smoothest,
Your equipment is the best,
You always do look handsome,
No matter how you're dressed.

Each year you carry thousands
To where the south wind blows
O'er snowy fields of cotton
And fragrant orange groves.

Places like a desert,
Where the wild beast roams,
Are changed by your magic hand
To smiling, happy homes.

Arid wastes and cypress swamps
Where'er your footstep goes
Increase in value swiftly
And blossom as the rose.

You are the greatest blessing
The South has ever known,
And an undeveloped country
To a wealthy one has grown.

You started Northern capital
To develop Southern lands.
Much of her prosperity
Was given by your hands.

What the enemies slander
And jurors laugh to scorn,
You will have as passengers
Generations yet unborn.

Schwab a Warning.

Two years ago on his election to the Presidency of the monster United States Steel Corporation, Charles M. Schwab was one of the most widely envied men in this country. The newspapers were filled with stories of his rise from a poor boy in a steel mill to eminence. The million dollar salary myth was invented for his glory, and for a time he replaced Carnegie or Morgan as a model in the dreams of ambitious young men all over the country. And now, after two short and troubled years of glory, Mr. Schwab reverts, the victim of a nervous breakdown. Mr. Schwab has been widely lauded as a graduate from the ranks, but it is highly probable that the very lack of long and systematic mental training helped to bring about his present deplorable situation. Breadth of outlook and intellectual background are needed to control a great business. If Mr. Schwab had possessed a mind trained outside as well as inside the steel business, it is not unlikely that the work he undertook would have set more easily on his shoulders. A few rare men acquire these qualities where engaged in manual toil, but they are the men able to work by day and to study at night, and as boys they are intent upon something more than merely getting on at the business upon which they were employed. The genius is no model for the man of ordinary talents.

The safest way to set up in the world is to make all possible preparation on the lower rounds of the ladder. The moral of the Schwab retirement is to prepare with all possible care for the work you hope to do, then not to imagine, because your ambition is boundless, that your physical powers are also. Every man has his limit, and the man who oversteps by work not less foolish, though less wicked, than he ruins himself by dissipation.—Brooklyn Eagle.

We want the news that happens here in Earlington and we also want our friends to help us obtain it. If you go anywhere, telephone THE BEE; if you have a friend visiting you, telephone THE BEE; if your neighbor is sick, telephone THE BEE; if you know of anyone that has been or is going anywhere, telephone THE BEE; no matter what happens, we want to know about it. It may seem trivial to you, when in reality it is a good news item. Don't forget we have a good telephone and are always ready to answer it.

Mr. E. R. Hubert, a prominent merchant of Chicago, writes: "I have used your German Liver Powder for several years, and I can say that it is the best medicine I have ever used. It cures constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headache, and all the ailments that result from a disordered liver. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they all praise it. It is a most valuable medicine, and I am sure it will do much good for many people."

Railroad Edition.

On account of several of the Henderson Division people who have lately become interested in the Special Railroad Edition THE BEE is getting out, and desire to be represented in the same, we have extended the extreme limit when photographs may be received until Sept. 15. This will not delay the edition any as it will only take a short while to get the cuts out after the photos are received. All who wish to take part in this Railroad Edition are urged to send in their photos at an early date.

The Genuine vs. Counterfeit.
The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding hemorrhoids is equally to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

THE THEDFORD'S
BLACK DRAUGHT
THE GREAT
FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught has saved doctors' bills for more than sixty years. For the common family ailments, such as constipation, indigestion, headache, colds, croup, pleurisy, chills and fever, biliousness, and all other ailments of the bowels, it is the only medicine necessary. It invigorates and regulates the liver, assists digestion, stimulates action of the kidneys, purifies the blood, and purges the bowels of food accumulations. It cures liver complaint, indigestion, sour stomach, dizziness, chills, rheumatic pains, headache, backache, kidney troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, biliousness, piles, hard colds and hoarseness. Every drug-gift has Thedford's Black-Draught in 25 cent packages and in a mammoth size for $1.00. Send for a sample. Insist on having the original made by the Chattanooga Medicine Company.

I believe Thedford's Black-Draught is the best medicine on earth. It is good for any and everything. I have a family of twelve children, and in four years I have kept them on food and health with no doctor but Black-Draught. I am Geo. X. Taylor, Earlington, Ky.

A Growsome Entertainment.

A young woman who is thought to be dying from consumption gave a novel party in Mount Vernon, Pa., last week, says the New York Tribune. She called it a death party. The affair was attended by a dozen young women, and the hostess wore a white silk dress in which she expected to be buried. She made the dress herself only a few weeks ago. The girl, who is about nineteen years old, has been in failing health for a year. Her doctor knew that she had consumption, but kept the news from her, fearing that if she learned she could not live she would become melancholy. It finally became necessary to tell her that she was going to die, but instead of becoming melancholy, as her family had anticipated, she bore up cheerfully and began arranging her farewell party. She invited all the young women of her acquaintance, and when they came she informed them that she had sent for them to bid them farewell. The guests felt a little hesitation at first about being too jovial, but the hostess took the lead by playing some popular airs for them on her piano and treating them all to ice cream and cake. The party turned out to be an enjoyable affair. As the guests were departing they surrounded the big arm chair in which their hostess sat up, and each kissed her goodbye, probably forever. The scene was so affecting that nearly all the girls were in tears. The sick girl herself finally broke down and wept with the others.
